

Utterly Ridiculous Acting, Singing and Dancing

The Sports Hall at Fosse Bank School was the venue for an exciting production of a series of dramatic sketches called 'Utterly Ridiculous' on Friday 30th January 2009. Children from Years 3 to 6 participated in the 'Act Your Age' enrichment scheme to help develop their talents in Literacy and the Performing Arts. The theatre group worked with each class for one day and at the end of the week the children came together to put on a performance for their parents.

Jane Chappell, who runs the 'Act Your Age' programme said, "The children used a variety of skills including speaking, listening, group discussion and interaction, drama, standard English, language variation, dance and singing through the topic which focused on Fairy Tales with a modern twist. In short, the National Curriculum came to life in a spectacular and vibrant way!"

Mrs Lovatt-Young, Head at Fosse Bank, said, "We have invited the 'Act Your Age' team to work with our children for the past three years. Jane is an inspiring teacher and in addition to giving our pupils the superb opportunity to be part of a professional performance she also emphasises the need for self-discipline, team-work and responsibility – all attributes that we hold dear at Fosse Bank."
